Kevin Malchow practices in all aspects of Florida workers' compensation law, at both the trial and appellate levels throughout the State of Florida. Kevin advises employers and insurance carriers with regard to subrogation matters, accident investigations, risk management, premium disputes, coverage disputes and other workers' compensation related matters. He specializes in defending both self-insured employers and their servicing agents, as well as insurance companies. Kevin also has significant experience in defending employers in the trucking/transportation industry, agricultural, retail and service industries, and government/public sector entities.

Kevin is a Florida Department of Insurance Certified Instructor and is AV Preeminent rated by Martindale-Hubbell. He has also been recognized as one of Orlando Home and Leisure Magazine's Top Lawyers.

In 2003, Kevin served his country with the 32nd Army Air and Missile Defense Command for six months while deployed during Operation Iraqi Freedom in the Middle East. Kevin again deployed to the Middle East in 2010 and served for a year with the 53rd Infantry Brigade Combat Team in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom and Operation New Dawn. He served in the United States Army Reserve from 1988-1989, as well as in the Florida Army National Guard since 1989. In 2000, Mr. Malchow completed the process of becoming a United States Army JAG (Judge Advocate General) Officer. He is currently a Lieutenant Colonel and assigned as Command Judge Advocate of the Florida National Guard's Camp Blanding Joint Training Center.
